TRUE PROPHETS

In Deuteronomy today we hear that God's very words will fill the mouth of a true prophet, but a false prophet will, in a manner of speaking, put mere mortal words into God's mouth. In Mark's Gospel, we see Jesus teaching and healing as a true prophet, one filled with the authority of God's own voice. The whole history of our church is filled with both true and false prophets. Some false prophets were extremely popular and quite well-versed in scripture, and even held positions of authority. But in today's Gospel we learn that Jesus' fame spread because he taught with authority; he wasn't an authority because he was popular or famous. Elsewhere, we also learn from him, in his desert temptation confrontations with Satan, that anyone can quote scripture, even against God's purposes. Today we hear that his authority was not like that of the scribes, who held the official positions of religious authority in his day. Our work is to do our best to discern the true prophets in our midst, and to be true prophets as well. The psalmist tells us how to do this: by not hardening our hearts when God speaks. If we truly listen to God, it will be God's very words filling our mouths.

THE EUCHARIST: is the source of the summit of every Catholic's life of faith. It is in partaking of Holy Communion that Catholics receive the Body, Blood, Soul and Divinity of Jesus Christ. It is extremely important that Catholics not be deprived of the opportunity to receive the Blessed Sacrament.

The church, insofar as it is possible, endeavors to meet the spiritual needs of all her faithful. From these needs arise the Church's ancient pastoral practice of visiting the sick. This practice includes taking the Eucharist and sharing in prayer with shut-ins in their homes.

Requests for Eucharistic visits rise during the winter season therefore to meet this need; we are seeking additional Pastoral Care Ministers. To volunteer or for more information please contact Suzanne (519) 685-2795 ext. 29 or swalton@dol.ca
